A new collection of impressionist palette knife oil paintings by Kye Myintt Saw depicting the vibrant and mystic nightlife of Yangon City.

Kye Myintt Saw's latest works will shown at his solo exhibition in Hong Kong with Asia Fine Art.

Seen through the sensitive eyes of this 71 year old artist - this new collection of 17 impressionist oil paintings - depicting market scenes and night life in his home city. Also, included are a selection of his latest figure paintings.

His unique use of palette knife reflects the style of the French master artists whom he admires. He is the master of his own special style which vividly creates delicate brushstrokes - showing his passion for people and light. Some of his works combine the techniques of both brush stroke and palette knife, easily taking the onlooker on a journey of colour, movement and light.
